

Kevin L. Hall has joined Tucker Arensberg, P.C.

News April 20, 2015

Kevin L. Hall has joined the firm as an Associate. Hall joins the firm from Rawle & Henderson, LLP.

Hall focuses his practice on litigation including complex civil matters in a wide range of legal issues. Prior to going into private practice, Kevin served as Assistant Counsel at the Office of the Chief Counsel, Department of Labor and Industry where he handled labor and employment administrative and regulatory matters; defense litigation before EEOC, PHRC, Civil Service Commission; and Wage and Hour civil and criminal matters before state courts. Before joining Tucker Arensberg, he handled a variety of civil defense matters, such as commercial motor vehicle and property and casualty defense. He has assisted with the defense of a number of national Fortune 100® companies, including cases with exposure levels in excess of $100 million.

Hall earned his J.D. from The Pennsylvania State University, Dickinson School of Law, where he was the Managing Editor, Yearbook of Arbitration and Mediation and a Member of the Moot Court Board – National Appellate Team. He received his B.A. from LaSalle University, magna cum laude.