

Evan C. Pappas Joins Tucker Arensberg in Harrisburg

News October 17, 2016

Tucker Arensberg, P.C. is pleased to announce that Evan C. Pappas has joined the firm as a shareholder in the Harrisburg office. His practice is focused on civil litigation and intellectual property and his clients are in technology, construction, real estate, mortgage companies, financial institutions, hospitality (including liquor licenses) and real estate developers. Evan joins the firm from a local Harrisburg Firm.

“Evan’s litigation and small to medium sized business experience is a great fit with the existing work performed at Tucker Arensberg,” says Anthony Foschi, Managing Shareholder of the Harrisburg office. “He brings a wealth of experience and knowledge that will continue to elevate the legal services we offer to clients.”

Evan earned his juris doctor, cum laude from Widener University School of Law and his Bachelor of Arts from Lehigh University.