

Two Attorneys Elected as Shareholders at Tucker Arensberg, P.C.

News October 29, 2019

Tucker Arensberg, P.C. is pleased to announce that two of its senior associates, Jeremy Farrell and Rebecca Moran, have been elected to the firm's membership as shareholders.

Jeremy V. Farrell is a civil litigator and management-side employment lawyer. He helps employers and their managers proactively solve legal issues in the workplace and, when the need arises, represents them in court and before administrative agencies like the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC), Department of Labor (DOL), and unemployment compensation bureau. Jeremy also represents companies and individuals in a variety of commercial disputes, including those involving breach of contract, negligence, fraud and oil and gas matters. He represents utility companies in court and before the Public Utility Commission (PUC) on a wide range of issues, including those involving allegations of property damage, unsafe or unreasonable service, and personal injury.

Jeremy received his law degree from Case Western Reserve University School of Law, magna cum laude and Order of the Coif, and his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Pittsburgh, magna cum laude. Jeremy has been recognized as a Pennsylvania and Ohio Super Lawyers Rising Star[®].

Rebecca Alcorn Moran is an attorney in the firm's Business and Finance Group and is a member of the firm's Real Estate and Construction, Energy, Mergers & Acquisitions, Healthcare, and Financial Institutions practice groups. In her transactional practice, Rebecca drafts and negotiates contracts, represents clients in M&A transactions, and advises on general legal matters. Rebecca's healthcare practice focuses on representing physicians, physical therapists, dentists, nurse practitioners, and physician assistants. Her clients call on her to represent them in practice formation, employment contract reviews, and in the sale of their practices. Rebecca has also supported the firm's clients in a number of large commercial litigation matters. She uses this experience to advise corporate clients in the beginning of a transaction or relationship of the potential issues and means to mitigate risks. Rebecca uses her broad experience to provide practical, business-oriented legal advice.

Rebecca received her law degree from the University of Pittsburgh School of Law and graduated from Kent State University with a B.A. degree, summa cum laude, with University Honors and Phi Beta Kappa.
