

Commercial Litigation

Sometimes litigation appears to be the only way to resolve a conflict. And whether filing the suit or defending against one, clients want to be confident that their attorneys can lead them to the best possible outcome. Our diverse client base has called upon our litigation attorneys to represent them in a broad range of legal matters involving securities, corporate and shareholder disputes, commercial transactions, recoveries, contract disputes and bankruptcy litigation.

A long history of representing financial institutions gives Tucker Arensberg an edge concerning emerging legal issues such as lender liability, letter of credit issues, and the ever-changing impact of bankruptcy laws and environmental legislation on day-to-day operations.

The diverse legal background shared by the firm's commercial finance and litigation departments gives Tucker Arensberg a decided advantage in the effective handling of commercial disputes. Tucker Arensberg is eager and aggressive in protecting our clients' rights.

Our clients represent many industry segments allowing us to work on diverse litigation matters involving:

- Class action defense
- Commercial litigation
- Contract disputes
- Construction disputes
- Corporate and shareholder disputes
- Debt recovery
- Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA) Issues
- Environmental issues
- Insurance disputes
- Labor & employment litigation
- Lender liability claims
- Letters of credit issues
- Mergers & acquisitions
- Pension claims
- Personal injury cases
- Product liability defense
- PUC complaints, motor carrier certification, infraction responses & formal complaints
- Real estate cases
- Securities
- Toxic tort defense
- Trade secrets and Non-Competes
- Workers' compensation